JOHNSON'S RHEUMATIC COMPOUND.

No Medicine for the cure of Rheumatism has ever attained to such a high degree of favor and universality as Johnson's Rheumatic Compound. Although but one year before the public, this madicine has justify gained an unbounded popularity. When the originator first introduced it he was convincion of the sufficient of the suppressed of the suppressed of the suppressed. The attestation of hundreds who have been cured by it must prove the truth of the assertion that it is

What is the cause, some of our readers ask, of this trouble between Chill and Spain? About two years ago Spain became involved in a quarrel with Peru. The Chilians naturally sympathized with their neighbors, and last year refused to allow Spaulsh ships of war to coal in their ports. The Chilian government took the ground that coal was contraband of war, and therefore that they had no right to supply it to Spain, while she was engaged in bostilities against Peru. Spain complained of this refusal and also alleged insults to the Spanish legation, and dealts to the Spanish legation, and de manued apologies and a sandre of the apologies or to give the salute. Spain then blocknded the ports. The Chilians have had one or two inspiriting successes. They captured the Covadonga, which was sailing under the Spainsh flag, sind Admiral Pareja was so froughed by the loss of the vessel that he committed suicide. Nanez, who has gained so unenvitable a noioriety by the recent bombardment, succeeded him in command. It is known that several Spanish vessels of war are now on their way to the Chilian waters. Nunez will probably be able to destroy or damage the several towns on the coast, if he chooses to do so. But if the Chilians have the, spirit with which they have beguing the sucless and therefore orughacts of wat hand the fore or useless and therefore or useless and therefore

At a recent Sunday School Conference in Rochdale, Mr. Bright spoke on the subject of education, citing examples from the common school system of the United States. He produced statistics to show that in Manchester and Salford there are more than fifty thousand children who are receiving no instruction whatever. Of these, vast numbers are not even reached by the agency of the Sanday school, which seeks to descend to the lowest ranks of the people. He added:

"Now, I shall give you the contrast to this, to show what has been done lever, and what might be done lever, and what might be done lever, and what might be done lever, which was peopled from this country some two hundred and forty years, as you look upon the map of the United States of the United States of the Distates of New York. Those six States of New York. Those six States are those of New York. Those six States are those of New England, which were originally peopled by the Puritan emistrants from England who settled there. This is the district to which I wish to constant you to look over the whole of the United States, thought and it the from England who settled there. Though only small States, containing not more than one-tenth of the whole population of the American Union, yet the influence of their opinions is felt to the remotest corners of that vast territory. [Hear, hear.] In New England they consider their plan as the only plan. They have tried it for two hundred years. Its success is beyond all contest—it is absolutely complete. [Hear, hear.] There's nothing like it that has been equally successful in the world. been equally successful in the world. And what our Puritan ancestors have and what our Furthal allocations have done (I know they were our ancestors as well as theirs) in the States, if the people of England had thesense to com-prehend their true interests, they might compel to be done in the country in which we live." [Loud cheers.]

Is Crinciline Becoming Extinct?

We are hearing it asserted continually that crinoline is going out, that its reign is over, and that Indies will soon resemble closed umbrellas as closely as they now resemble open ones.

All this wisdom is deduced from the fact that now and then, from caprice or from the exigencies of the occasion, the Empress Eugene appears without her wonted circumference.

At the recent court festivals, which are certainly occasions of full dress and display, her Møjesty appeared minus the "steel chage," but not without a substitute for it in the shape of a new invention, the crinciline cloth skirt, and an unusual number of starched petticoats.

The crinciline cloth skirt is not an ar-
